FEDERAL IMPROVEMENTS FOR CITY

APROVED both by district and state administrative offices of the Progress Works federal set up, there seems to be little or no doubt that the four major projects asked for by City of Bay St. Louis will be finally approved and the improvements sought for subsequently forthcoming.

It has long been felt the city has urgently needed more school housing accommodation until now that situation as become so acute it is at the breaking point. The sum of $61,000 asked for would give Central School ample accommodation and the sum has been requested for no other reason than that it is needed and not because the money might be had for the asking and is available.

Present water mains over the city are inadequate and a greater portion of the city is at the mercy of the inadequacy of only 2-inch mains. True insurance rate will be considerably reduced but the biggest factor at stake is protection. Insurance is all very well. It gives partial recompense for loss but never at even a fair coverage. Protection means one hundred per cent coverage without the danger of a fire.

The colored population have long suffered with the city by making suffice the present somewhat dangerous two-story frame building used as a schoolhouse. It is a tornado hazard and more especially a fire hazard, to say nothing of lack of room and facilities.

Our city streets in the main have been hard-surfaced but considerable portion of important roadway remains in the rough, dusty and in bad condition and an agency of wear and tear on all vehicles that means actual heavy loss annually.

And an outstanding factor is born of the fact the projects in the building will supply labor to home people. In fact, this is the primary object of the huge appropriations that have been made for public improvement over the country. This object will be met with the spending of billions and it is hoped long before the last penny will have been spent that ultimate object in view by the government will have been realized.

The difference between seeking and getting business is often in the advertising methods used.

DEFECTIVE EYES HURT STUDENTS

THREE are some people in Hancock county who dismiss glasses for the eyes as a fad or a hobby. They say that nearly everybody nowadays needs them but that they remember when very few people used them. They are correct, but they do not realize that when many of us forsook the fields and came indoors to work, using artificial light in our homes and reading much finer print that we began to do things that were not the custom in the old days.

There can be little doubt but that the changing system of living the present era requires greater strain on the eye than that organ was in the habit of bearing. No wonder many of us have poor eyesight, resulting from strain or defective vision.

It is said that more than 2,000,000 school children suffer in their school work from improper vision. Very often students who fail to make the marks that their parents want them to make do so because of the condition of the eyes, which consciously, or unconsciously, causes the pupil not to like to study.

The point of all this is that somewhere in this county there may be a child, berated for indolence or ignorance, when the fault lies with the parents who have not realized the need of correct vision and have allowed the little girl or boy to go to school improperly equipped. Instead of being blamed the little pupil should be comforted and the parents themselves censured.

Now, if by chance, some parent reads this article, and thinks of a child, and corrects the defective vision of the child then the space has not been wasted and we are glad to be able to call attention to the matter.

Do your part to build up Bay St. Louis and you will probably be surprised to find out how many people are ready to do the same.

WATCH OUT FOR COLDS

THE near approach of cold weather reminds us to warn readers against the common cold, that many people think is unavoidable. It is nothing to be lightly dismissed because it leads to serious complications very often.

People catch colds but they can be avoided. Build up your system if it is run down, see your doctor and take advantage of medical science in fighting the cold. If you have been susceptible to them in the past it might be a good idea to secure special treatment from your physician.

Parents should not permit their children to run wild during the time they have cold and should not mingle with other people themselves. If you want others to have your infection, if you wish to disregard the health of others and don't care whether somebody dies from your carelessness then when you catch a cold forget all sense of conduct and try your best to avoid infecting others.

NO MINCING OF WORDS BY SENATOR BILBO

SENATOR BILBO never minces words. He says what he thinks, has the courage of his convictions and always speaks out in open meeting—emphatically and unmistakably. From Associated Press reports:

The Rev. Mr. Smith berated Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, of Mississippi, for spreading "lies against Long" in the Mississippi gubernatorial campaign when Bilbo campaigned for Hugh White, the governor-designate, and charged that Long was seeking to defeat White. He asked of Bilbo:

"Why did you come to New Orleans last Friday, two days before our leader was shot, with $25,000 in cash to put in a bank in New Orleans? You were elected to serve the poor people in the Senate in the greatest crisis in the nation's history and you were silent for a complete term while Senator Long waged a battle for the common people."

"Your campaign in Mississippi was filled with venomous lies played up by the lying newspapers, which encouraged those who figured in the assassination of Huey Long."

You low down politician."

The foregoing was broadcast Friday night by the Rev. Mr. Smith and it was safe to say Senator Bilbo would not let it go by. Of course, Senator Bilbo did not go to a New Orleans bank and deposit $25,000, more so if the money was the result of a shady political transaction, as the reverend gentleman would insinuate.

Here is the Senator's reply, as again reported by the Associated Press, the conversation and ever dependable news reporting agency, as follows:

U. S. Senator Theodore G. Bilbo referred to the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, organizer of the Long "Share Our Wealth" societies as "damnable self-made liar" today in denying charges against him by Rev. Smith in a radio address last night.

Bilbo, who is a licensed minister of the Baptist Church himself, said that Rev. Smith should "take in Bible and get back in the pulpit where he belongs."

"When the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith intimates, insinuates or charges that I went to New Orleans last week or any other time in my life with $25,000 in my pocket," Senator Bilbo said hotly, "he is a contemptible, dirty, vicious, puissantious, with malice-aforethought, damnable self-made liar."

"I went to New Orleans to make arrangements with the Federal Land Bank to get some money that they were holding back on a loan to finish my dream house. I made the necessary arrangements and drove straight back to my office at Poplarville. I visited only two places in New Orleans, a restaurant and the bank."

"If the Rev. Smith would get himself out of politics and take his Bible and get back in the pulpit where he belongs—if he's fit to be a preacher—he might do the world some good, but by trying to fool the negroes and ignorant people with fantastic ideas of Share-Our-Wealth societies, which are nonsense to any intelligent mind, he becomes a public menace and ought to be squelched."

COOPERATING ADVERTISING

MANY merchants, some of them in Bay St. Louis, are accustomed to think of advertising as a means of taking business from competitors instead of looking upon it as a proper method of stimulating sales of the commodities advertised. This is being illustrated forcefully in many national campaigns, where manufacturers of certain things have banded themselves into a national association for the purpose, of fighting the other man's product, but of selling the consumer the machine that both make.

The same idea should apply to local advertising.

Merchants who advertise in the Sea Coast Echo do not necessarily compete for a minimum amount of business, which one must take from the other. Rather, it is true that their up-to-date advertising will create an impression throughout our shopping area and much business will come in—enough to give all worthwhile business a share.

DO YOUR TRADING AT HOME

THE commercial growth of a community depends largely upon the extent of the stocks kept by its merchants. People do not come to town to buy what the merchants do not sell. No merchant can enlarge his stocks until there is a demand for the goods. Merchandise bought from peddlers fails to create any demand.

Every local citizen should buy everything at home that is possible. Dollars sent away by money orders, or checks, seldom get back to home circulation. The carpenter who buys his tools by mail seldom thinks that a better business for the hardware merchant might mean more business activity. Every man and woman, working for a living in Bay St. Louis, depends upon the money kept at home for payday.

WHY TAX BURDENS ARE HEAVY.

TAX-PAYERS of the majority of cities and towns in Mississippi and possibly every county in the State are carrying the major portion of tax burden for the reason of bond issues that have to be paid, to say nothing of accumulated interest due.

It can hardly be said high taxes in every community are due to extravagance and lack of intelligent spending of public funds. This could hardly prevail in a State where majority of communities are small and revenue in proportion. The cry of graft is used only too often without sense of unthinking minds.

Some years back, with the advent of the automobile in large numbers, it became necessary to heed the cry for better roads. The auto has been the one big missionary for better roads, more roads and hard-surfaced ones at that. Tax-payers, voters were willing to vote millions in the aggregate for the proposed bonds in order roadways may be secured. An orgy of bond issues followed, the likes of which has never

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

ROAD PAVING PROGRAM VITALLY IMPORTANT

(West Point (Miss.) Daily Times)

THE calling of special elections to be held on September 27, for the purpose of filling vacancies in the membership of the State legislature, leaves no doubt regarding the intentions of Governor Conner to call an extra session soon after the first of October.

It is understood that only one matter will be submitted to the legislators—a proposal for setting aside one or two cents of the gasoline excise tax to retire bonds or notes to match Federal funds for highway paving.

As the proposal now stands, the legislature will be asked to sanction the paving of only the "Federally marked" highways of the State, and the one or two cents of the gasoline excise tax will be set aside for this specific purpose.

If the measure goes through, in its present form, half of the State's share of the gasoline excise tax is allocated to the paving of the "Federally marked" highways of the state.

It means that paving on the rest of the State's primary highway system will be delayed for twenty years or more, as all of the remaining funds will be necessary to maintain the unpaved roads of the State.

For this reason, it is vitally important that any extensive road paving program include all of the primary highways of the State, and citizens who reside on primary roads which have not been "Federally marked" should immediately get bus-ies.

All of the primary roads of the State should be paved—and those which carry the heaviest traffic should be paved first.

TRAFFIC VIOLATION "DRIVE" PRECEDES OPENING OF THE SCHOOLS

(Jackson (Miss.) Daily Clarion-Ledger)

FROM THE Superintendent of schools in Rockford, Illinois comes the novel announcement that pulchritude here after will be used as a yardstick of pedagogical fitness. Not a teacher will be hired unless she approaches

the Follies standard of beauty.

Brains, apparently, won't count.

Or, if they do, it will be only in an incidental sort of way.

The policy may be an excellent means of enhancing the attractiveness of teachers' meeting and of assuring the contentment of school principals. But intelligence and discipline are worth more in the classroom than plucked eyebrows, tinted fingerails, rouged lips and powdered noses.

REPUBLICAN

The recent death of Mrs. Anna

Wilmarth Thompson Ickes, wife of the Secretary of the Interior, recalls that when her husband entered the cabinet of President Roosevelt,

she was serving in the Illinois Legislature, having been elected on the Republican ticket.

BIGGER

Some 3,500 employees of the Treasury will be actively engaged in combating the illicit trade of bootleggers, which, Secretary Morgan-thau says, he will "flick or quit."

This army of enforcement agents is high above the similar corps during the prohibition era.

We note many communities are refunding their bond issues, renewing the bond and postponing payment to a time when times should be more propitious for meeting the contracted obligation. There is reason to look forward and hoping for the best.

VERY DRY

According to Dr. C. C. Clarke, of the United States Weather Bureau,

the summer of 1935 was the hottest in fifty years, with the exception of the summer of 1934. A dry hot summer in the center of the country may permit new dust storms like those that swept over the west ast fall and spring.

I. Trapani Host To Number of Ladies and Gentlemen at Spread

Mr. Tony Trapani, who conducts a popular "keno" resort at Uncle Charlie's Nite Club, was host to few evenings ago to an elaborate and delightful spread complimentary to candidates, successful and otherwise, and other friends, comprising quite a number of ladies and gentlemen.

Two long tables were set with delicious edibles to which the friends sat and enjoyed the feast of good things to eat. It was evident that competent cooks had prepared the spread, with good things to drink accompanying the repast.

Mayor G. Y. Blaize was master of ceremonies and, as usual, distinguished himself in the usual successful manner. Some fifteen guests were called upon to respond to the chief toast by the Mayor and Mr. Trapani was paid lavish tribute, not only for his splendid personality, hospitality, but for the additional pleasure resort he had supplied Bay St. Louis. Many ladies and gentlemen each evening find this high-class keno club one which affords amusement and a resort where they may spend an evening in time.

The spread was gesture of good will on the part of Mr. Trapani. A resident and property owner of Bay St. Louis he wished to show by some outward expression his appreciation of the manner in which his efforts to supply the town with such resort had been received. He is appreciative of patronage and especially of the co-operation received.

This affair was one appreciated by the many guests and will not be forgotten.

MISS PATRICIA CASSIDY HONORED WEDNESDAY BY MISS ERICSON

Summit (Miss) Sentinel:

One of the loveliest parties of the season was that given by Miss Ethel Ericson on Wednesday evening, September 4, at 8:30 o'clock, at her home in Summit, honoring her charming cousin, Miss Patricia Cassidy, of Bay St. Louis, who is now making her home in Summit.

The house was beautifully decorated with flowers of the season and in the soft lamp-light they lent a touch of brilliance to the picture made by four tables of Summit's younger bridge players, deeply interested in their cards.

At the conclusion of five games

Miss Billy Brent, winner of high score for girls, was given a handsome pair of earrings. Miss Cassidy, honoree, was also given a beautiful pair of earrings. Harry Lee Brown, winner of high score for boys, received a package of cigarettes.

During the play delicious ice-cold lemonade was served the players.

At the conclusion of the play, attractive plates of ice-cream and cake were served.

Those present were: Miss Patricia

Cassidy, honoree, Misses Billy Brent,

Lavelle Williams, Juanita Creel,
